

Published by Hartford Courant on Aug. 16, 2013.

COSGROVE, Anna (Ozemko) – Obituary

Anna (Ozemko) Cosgrove, 90, of Rockville, passed away on Tuesday, (August 13, 2013). She went to her eternal home with a strong faith and a beautiful spirit. Anna was the daughter of John and Anna Ozemko, Slavish immigrants. She was born on September 18, 1922, in New Britain and grew up in Broad Brook.

After graduating from Ellsworth Memorial High School, she moved to Hartford, where she lived and worked until she met the love of her life, William J. Cosgrove of Rockville. On June 5, 1948, the two were married, and Anna embarked on her life's vocation, that of wife and mother. To her husband and children, she will always be remembered as "the best Mom in the whole, wide world."

Anna is survived by her devoted husband of 65 years, William; her daughter Linda Bates, husband Peter and their daughter Victoria of Glastonbury; her son William, wife Tonya and daughters Brianna and Tiffany of Vernon; and her daughters Mary Cosgrove and Ann Cosgrove of Vernon. She also leaves behind a world that will always be dimmer for the lack of her dazzling smile. Anna was predeceased by her brothers, John and Joseph Ozemko, her sister Mary Evans and her grandson Brian Cosgrove.

Anna was a communicant of Saint Bernard Church, where a Mass of Christian burial will be held, followed by burial at St. Bernard's Cemetery. Arrangements are private and at the convenience of the family.

~~~~~